

SOC 2023 : CULTURAL ANTHROPOLOGY

This course introduces the concept of culture and cultural processes. It examines perceptions of race, gender, and ethnicity and compares human adaptation across cultures and through time in terms of subsistence methods, social and political organization, economics, stratification, marriage and family structure, religion, kinship, and language.

Credits 3

Lecture Hours 3

Lab Hours 0

ACTS Equivalency Course ID

ANTH 2013